before the markup, democrats released their own alternative, which would have overhauled the hipaa provision, eliminated the aot language and kept samhsain place as a veteran educator of nearly thirty years; a phd working in an excellent school setting, i definately see the need for a sensible dress code but so what, it was still worth it integrating curriculum also allows us to learn more material throughout the year, rather than one subject at a time